Dear Mrs. Galore,

Received copy of your query to Christopher McR on sound. I will be most interested in his ideas. And it would be fun to have a visit with him as it's been a long time.

Spoke with little miss Jacqueline this evening and she is doing reasonably well but very booked with all her court ordered drug and alcohol counseling each afternoon and now an hour of community service before that. I stressed the importance of her following all this to the letter of each requirement and that I couldn't be a party to her missing any of her obligations. So you and Linley can stand down for this week. I'll try and get her into Roq la Rue gallery on Saturday. I still haven't seen the show but read a good review of it.

And we should start looking for a time to shop up some home lab gear. And a time to pick up some source material... an person wants to purchase my kiln from Richland so I may have a ride there. Also (if I can find them) lots of catalogs for cool stuff like target foils

Meanwhile, everything best.

Jim
