PS,

Must be a lengthy article you are writing as you didn't make it down this week. Could it be your Metal Doom talk for your Hundred Greatest Lectures tape?

Narrowly escaped going to the first Seahawks pre-season game with Don Carver this afternoon. It is that time of year for me to stop answering the phone weekend afternoons.

Anyway keep your eye open for a chance to come down for coffee. I suspect you had some gripping epic on the way home from Morocco. Could it have been your names miss-spelled on your tickets?

PS, Can anything more go wrong for poor Pakistan?
