Fifth of May
`Seattle

PS,

Hummm…. Cinco De Mayo… Cinco De Mayo… just when is Cinco De Mayo?

I spent the weekend driving a rented truck from Orcas Island back to Seattle, with Don Carver and his girlfriend Vicky in Don's car. Don's Father, who lived on Orcas, had passed away earlier this year and Don and his sisters cleaned out the family home. I didn't get back to my place until Monday. I didn't mind driving the truck but the lifting made me feel old.

Give me a call if you get downtown and maybe we could fit in brunch. Anyway it would be good to see you. It is close to the first of the month so I am rolling in dough and could easily do lunch. I think it is my turn anyway.
