Bubba,

In the end the Labor Day weather was a little raw for the zoo so Linley and I took the kids to the Aquarium. It is a good Aquarium and we all had a good time. Linley's kids are 8 and 4 and they really enjoyed it. Next time you have Nicholas and Ryan for a visit you might take them.

Did you go to Bumbershoot this year? I know you sometimes go. The weather was very much Seattle for it but from the few times I have gone people didn't seem to mind a little rain. It is one of Seattle's cooler events.

Thanks again for the pound of coffee at Zeitgeist as well as the Moroccan cigarettes, now almost gone. I am sill up for a trip to Daniel Smith Inc for paper if you plan to go down. I'll buy the coffee.

And even if we don't have time for a trip to the art supply store it would be good to have a visit before you are back in harness with school.

So find a time and let me know.

Jim Bob
